New Navy Jet Breaks Closed Course Record

LOS ANGELES (AP) — The Navy Wednesday claimed a world closed course speed record of 1,216.78 miles an hour for its fastest fighter, the F4H Phantom II.

The record flight was made Tuesday by Marine Lt. Col. Thomas H. Miller, 37, of George West, Tex., at Edwards Air Force Base, Calif., over a 310-mile triangular course.

If recognized by the International Aeronautic Federation in Paris, the record will exceed by more than 400 m.p.h. the current mark of 816.3 m.p.h. This was set April 16, 1959, by Air Force Capt. George A. Edwards Jr. in an RF101 Voodoo.

Vice Adm. Clarence E. Ekstrom, commander of the Pacific Fleet air force, gave Miller his third Distinguished Flying Cross Wednesday in a plane-side ceremony after Miller flew here from Edwards AFB.

The McDonnell-built Phantom II, a two-seat, twin-jet, all-weather, carrier-based plane, is powered by two General Electric J79 engines, each developing more than 16,000 pounds of thrust.

Scheduled to become operational this year, the fighter will be armed with Sparrow III air-to-air missiles and is capable of delivering nuclear weapons over a long distance.

Adm. Ekstrom said, "This speed means more than a record, it means that we now have a weapon system capable of operating from aircraft carriers, that can go higher, faster, farther and thus is able to intercept any attacker aircraft sooner and with more firepower than any other aircraft we have."

Col. Miller said he made five flights at altitudes of 45,000 to 50,000 feet during the past three weeks in the effort to set the new record.

The straightaway jet speed record is 1,525 m.p.h., set last Dec. 15 at Edwards by Maj. Joseph Rogers in a Convair F106 Delta Dart.

Hoffa Handed New Setback

WASHINGTON (AP) — The U.S. Court of Appeals refused Wednesday to block appointment of Terence F. McShane, a former FBI agent, as chief monitor of the Teamsters Union.

The refusal was another, but not necessarily permanent, setback for Teamsters President James R. Hoffa. His union has been in constant litigation for almost three years over the monitor issue.

In turning down Hoffa's appeal to block McShane from the monitor chairmanship now, the appeals court said in effect it shouldn't act until such time as McShane might actually be appointed and challenged.

It asked that a lower court—the court of U.S. Dist. Judge F. Dickinson Letts—consider new material "both legal and factual" presented at an appeals court hearing.

The appeals court didn't identify the material, but it could include affidavits by two New York truck drivers accusing Robert F. Kennedy of browbeating and cursing them to get their support for McShane.

House Slates Security Risk Double Probe

3-Man Group Will Look Into Methods Of Pentagon, CIA

WASHINGTON (AP)—A second House committee—alarmed by the defection of two U.S. code specialists—set out Wednesday to find whether the Defense Department and intelligence agencies are vigilant enough in barring security risks from employment.

Chairman Carl Vinson, D-Ga., of the House Armed Services Committee announced creation of a three-man special subcommittee to look into the methods by which the Pentagon and the Central Intelligence Agency "recruit, screen, rescreen and clear their personnel."

There were these other developments stemming from the defection to the Soviet Union of Bernon F. Mitchell and William H. Martin, for the past three years mathematical analysts with the supersecret National Security Agency.

Chairman Francis E. Walter, D-Pa., of the House Committee on Un-American Activities said President Eisenhower has refused to supply him with the names of more than 1,000 persons rehired after once being fired as security risks.

Noncooperation Charged

Walter—whose committee will open hearings on the Mitchell-Martin case Sept. 16—said that by repeated refusals since January Eisenhower "has made it abundantly clear he doesn't want to cooperate."

The Walter committee is interested in the names of federal employees taken back after a U.S. Supreme Court decision which dealt with nonsensitive jobs.

Eisenhower told his news conference the defection of the two code clerks "shows that we must be always on the alert, very alert." He said, too, "I would think we must go through our entire procedures" for keeping security risks out of sensitive jobs "to see if there is any one way we could better it."

Sensitive jobs are those in such agencies as the Defense Department and the Atomic Energy Commission.

Nixon Agrees With Ike

Vice President Richard M. Nixon, the Republican candidate for president, was reported by his spokesman as in agreement with Eisenhower that the administration should make a thorough investigation of the case.

At the same time, Nixon's press secretary, Herbert G. Klein, said he didn't think the incident would prove a serious liability to Nixon in the campaign against Democratic nominee John F. Kennedy.

In a formal statement, the Justice Department described as erroneous reports that the FBI furnished unfavorable information on Mitchell and Martin to the Defense Department.

The crew members estimated 10,000 persons were gathered at the Stanleville airport in the heart of the jungle Aug. 27.

They were landing communications equipment for the U.N. forces when Congolese soldiers and civilians suddenly turned violent.

U.N. officials said then that the Congolese suspected the airmen had landed some Belgian troops.

They said they were pummeled with a variety of weapons for 15 minutes to half an hour. Then Ethiopian U.N. troops rescued them.

Bandit Gets $50,000

CANTON (UPI)—A neatly-dressed, masked gunman forced his way into the West Trust Branch of the Canton National Bank Wednesday and got away with $50,000 in cash.

The robber made his escape in a stolen car but quickly abandoned it a few blocks away to continue his getaway on foot, police said.

It would be foolhardy, Nixon continued, "for us to ignore the fact that we are confronted with a serious challenge in some phases of science by the Soviet Union."

He said that "in the midst of the most explosive revolution the world has ever seen" in the still-dawning space age, the nation demands "a strong science and a vigorous technology to defend itself, to advance personal liberty, and to raise standards of living."

To start moving, he said, he believes the next Congress should authorize the National Science Foundation to take the leadership in sponsoring the vast new program for basic research.

Nixon discussed "the scientific revolution" in the second of a series of papers aimed at giving his views in depth on various subjects. The first, issued Aug. 20, dealt with the meaning of Communism to Americans.

The Republican candidate conceded that the Soviet Union leads in the development of high-thrust rockets. But he said that, "overall, in the field of science, we are well ahead of the Soviet Union."

Nixon warned against complacency, however, saying that the United States "to stay ahead, we must move ahead" by giving creative American men and women freedom to explore the un-

Injured Airmen Home, Describe Congo Attack

MC GUIRE AIR FORCE BASE, N.J. (AP)—Seven battered airmen, victims of a beating from a Congolese mob, came home Wednesday and told of their nightmare experience.

Their hospital plane dropped onto a wide runway of this giant military terminal and they gazed into a sea of friendly faces as they got medals for "outstanding performance and devotion to duty."

It was a stark contrast from their experience Aug. 27 at Stanleville in the Congo, when their plane settled on a tiny runway of an airport in the jungle and they soon were surrounded by a hostile mob.

Three of the injured crewmen were still on stretchers. One had both of his smashed hands wrapped in bandages. White bandages on the heads and limbs of others attested to the violence of the attack.

"I was hit with clubs and sticks and guns and fists," said Lt. Kenneth Stieckvers of Valley Stream, N.Y.

"I thought maybe the whole world was against me," continued Lt. Gerald T. Henery of Washington, D.C.

U.S. To Send Heavy Cruiser Into Baltic

HAMBURG, Germany (UPI)—The United States will send a heavy cruiser into the Baltic Sea next month in an unusual invasion of traditional Soviet naval exercise grounds, it was announced Wednesday.

Informed West German sources said the U.S.S. Macon, with Rear Adm. S. W. Davis aboard, originally was scheduled to stop in Hamburg but the itinerary later was changed without explanation to Kiel, a Baltic Sea port. The sources viewed the switch as significant.

The visit will mark the first time a U.S. warship has entered the Baltic since World War II.

Florida Threatened By Hurricane Donna

MIAMI, Fla. (AP)—Hurricane Donna intensified this afternoon, conditions probably will affect the winds in its center increased from 140 to 150 m.p.h., its forward Cape Canaveral to Key West, the movement was upped from 8 to 10 m.p.h., which could push hurricane force winds to the mainland within 36 to 48 hours.

The storm has already taken at least 116 lives.

British authorities at Nassau said they were still in communication with Mayaguana but had received no reports of casualties or damage so far. It has a population of about 700.

Nassau itself was shuttered tightly. Yachts and fishing boats were anchored firmly in protected harbors.

So far, Donna's winds and torrential rains have left at least 106 dead and 200 missing in Puerto Rico, three dead in Haiti and seven others killed in the Leeward Islands. Damage is expected to total millions of dollars.

Kennedy Says Brinksmanship Arouses Fears

PORTLAND, Ore. (AP)—Sen. John F. Kennedy said Wednesday night the people of the world are afraid of American "diplomatic policies that teeter on the brink of war."

In a prepared speech that lit into the Republican foreign policy, the Democratic presidential nominee said: "There is no disputing the fact that our prestige, our stature and thus our influence have all declined abroad. And I find the American people very uneasy about it."

Kennedy was winding up a busy day of campaigning in Oregon in which he also struck out at GOP policies on federal aid to education and on housing.

But it was here, where he talked about America's prestige abroad, that he got in some of his heaviest campaign licks.

Kennedy spelled out five reasons why he believes American prestige is declining, and added: "Now the suspicions have been planted—the doubts have been expressed—and respect once lost can never be fully regained."

"First," he said, "the peoples of the world are no longer certain of an American (military) lead that will continue to shield them in the indefinite future."

"Secondly," they wonder why "Russia has a rate of economic growth more than twice as fast as ours. They wonder why Russia is turning out scientists and engineers at twice the rate we do."

"Third," they are "doubtful whether a party which has shown no real concern for civil rights... is likely to show much more concern or compassion for the colored and so-called underprivileged nations."

"Fourth," they sincerely wonder how strongly America desires peace. They are afraid of diplomatic policies that teeter on the brink of war. They are dismayed that our negotiators have no solid plans for disarmament."

Finally, Kennedy said the peoples of the world respect a nation which can see beyond its own image.

31 Lose Lives In Argentine Airliner Crash

MONTEVIDEO, Uruguay (AP)—The president of the Argentine Airline said Wednesday night experts are investigating the possibility that a bomb caused the crash of an airliner that killed all 31 aboard in northern Uruguay Wednesday morning.

The 25 passengers included two American women. Most of the others were Paraguayans.

The airline president, Miguel Moragues, who is a brigadier in the Argentine air force, said statements of witnesses and the condition of the wreckage ruled out any chance that an explosion in flight originated in the engines.

Moragues would not elaborate but he said company technicians were joining Argentine and Uruguayan air force experts in an investigation of the crash.

Police said the airliner was flying normally in an overcast, stormy sky. They said witnesses saw it gain altitude just before two explosions shattered the craft. The wing structure tore loose and plunged down, and then the entire craft seemed to disintegrate, they said.

Wreckage and bodies were scattered over a wide area.

The four-engine DC6 fell on a farm five miles from Salto, a city on the Uruguay-Argentine border about 250 miles north of Montevideo. It was on a regular run from Asuncion, Paraguay, to Buenos Aires, Argentina. The cargo included rice and medical supplies, gifts for earthquake victims in Chile.

The two American women aboard were attached to the U.S. Embassy in Buenos Aires.

One was Lorraine Connaughton, 39, secretary to the U.S. agricultural attaché, Mrs. Connaughton of 4 Plateau Place, Greenbelt, Md., was a widow with a son who attends school in Buenos Aires. She was a native of Randolph, Wis.

The other was Astrid Phoebe Egeland, 31, secretary for the U.S. Information Service at the embassy. Miss Egeland was from 6428 N. Oxford St., Chicago.

Wine, Kennedy's special assistant named to answer religious questions during the Democratic presidential candidate's election campaign, withheld immediate comment. He said he wanted to study the full text of the statement.

President Eisenhower told his news conference Wednesday that he had agreed with Vice President Richard M. Nixon "long ago that one thing we would never raise, and never mention, is the religious issue in this coming campaign."

The President said, "I do not believe in voicing prejudice," and "I want to assure you I feel none."

Dr. Peale said the participants in the Protestant conference came from all parts of the country, and included ministers and laymen of 37 Protestant denominations.

Assembly's Vote Delays Showdown

Lumumba, Kasavubu Efforts To Fire Each Other Canceled Out

LEOPOLDVILLE, the Congo (AP)—The Congo's National Assembly decided in a table-thumping, six-hour debate Wednesday that both President Joseph Kasavubu and Premier Patrice Lumumba should keep their jobs.

The issue of Communist infiltration went unresolved, but Lumumba told the assembly he had turned to the Soviet Union for help because they "were refused aid by the United Nations and the United States, which support our enemies."

Seeking to stem a government feud that racked the nation, deputies voted 60-19 to void both the conservative president's dismissal of the left-leaning premier and the premier's order ousting the president.

Feud Back Where It Was

This threw the conflict right back where it was before Kasavubu announced in a dramatic broadcast over Radio Leopoldville Monday night that he was dismissing Lumumba to check the Congo's drift toward chaos and communism.

Lumumba, himself a deputy, voted with the majority.

The lanky Lumumba, who turned to the Soviet for arms, transport and technical help, answered anti-Communist speeches by other members with the shouted declaration: "I have never been nor will be a Communist."

He gave ground and urged unity and cooperation after screaming against what he called a Kasavubu plot with colonialists to partition the country, charging that U. N. soldiers are taking independence from the Congo; and attacking what he called propaganda of the Roman Catholic Church.

Lumumba asked for creation of a committee to iron things out. The assembly chairman, Joseph Kasongo, said a committee will be formed.

The premier's attack on activities of the Catholic Church in the Congo was followed a few minutes later by the remark: "My father and mother were married in the Catholic Church. My children are learning the catechism. How could I be a Communist?"

Secluded in his mansion under the guard of U. N. soldiers, Kasavubu gained strength militarily.

Several hundred Congolese soldiers, loudly proclaiming their loyalty to the president, pulled in from the military base at Thysville, 70 miles southwest of Leopoldville.

East Germany's President Dies

BERLIN (AP)—Wilhelm Pieck, president of Communist East Germany who deserted the Kaiser's army in World War I to help found the German Communist party, died Wednesday. He was 84.

He was just two days older than Chancellor Konrad Adenauer of West Germany. He had been president since the Russians set up the East German Democratic Republic in 1949.

Unlike Adenauer, Pieck long had been too ill to do his job, which was largely ceremonial. A rather heavy, white-haired, benevolent-looking figurehead, he had suffered repeated strokes. He had not appeared in public for over two years.

In his early years he was an energetic fighter for the party and was its first representative in the Prussian Parliament.

He started as a cabinetmaker, like the present leader of the German Communists, Walter Ulbricht. He joined the Socialist party and was always identified with its left wing. He went to jail in 1915 for taking part in a demonstration against World War I.

Pieck was released five months later on condition that he join the army. In 1917 he was wounded, deserted and lived underground in Berlin.

Drug Probers Cite Rival Firms' Same Antibiotics Prices

WASHINGTON (AP) — Senate investigators questioned Wednesday how three rival drug firms arrived at and maintained identical prices for antibiotics during the last 10 years.

Officials of one of the producing firms, the American Cyanamid Co., said the sameness of prices reflected the keenest kind of competition.

The issue was raised as the Senate Antitrust subcommittee resumed its lengthy investigation of pricing practices by the prescription drug industry.

The senators turned Wednesday to the cost of antibiotics, a $400-million-a-year business at the manufacturers' level.

The hearing was punctuated, as in the past, by clashes between subcommittee Chairman Estes Kefauver, D-Tenn., and Sen. Everett M. Dirksen, R-Ill., who objected to some of the questioning.

Dirksen first objected to an attempt by Kefauver to place in the record material which the Tennesseean said would show unreasonable and excessive prices have been charged for the antibiotic drug tetracycline. Dirksen and Sen. Roman L. Hruska, R-Neb., argued that the evidence had been given the subcommittee in confidence and should not be aired publicly at the hearings.

Kefauver ruled out of order a motion by Dirksen to exclude the material until the subcommittee could decide behind closed doors on its admissibility. However, Kefauver delayed actually putting the material into the record.

Dirksen tangled again with Kefauver when the chairman questioned Dr. W. G. Malcolm, president of American Cyanamid, about his firm's profits on drug operations.

Malcolm had testified that the company's Lederle Laboratories division tries to earn 12 to 15 per cent profit annually after payment of taxes. He said in prepared testimony, however, that this has risen "slightly in excess of 15 per cent during the last two or three years."

The subcommittee staff produced figures indicating Lederle's profits after taxes totaled 17.5 per cent in 1957, 16 per cent in 1958 and 17.7 per cent in 1959. This was confirmed by Malcolm under questioning.

Soviet Actions

(Continued from Page 1) fault that Congress quit without acting on many items of importance. Eisenhower got a laugh by quipping that apparently, "This other party is making me responsible for splitting hairs."

For the most part, the session was serious business. All along the way, it had plenty of references to the Soviet Union and communism.

The defection of two American code clerks to the Soviet Union came up, of course, in a question as to what should be done to try to prevent the hiring of such persons by security agencies.

"I would think we must go through our entire procedures to see if there is any one way we could better it," Eisenhower said.

Eisenhower went into the news conference expecting and getting a question about the Soviet Union supplying planes to the Congo outside of U.N. jurisdiction. He pulled a piece of paper from his coat pocket, saying he had put the response in writing "because I want to make perfectly clear what we feel."

"The statement said that 'if' Soviet military personnel are flying the planes for the Congolese it would violate principles under which the larger powers agreed to withhold military forces from the U.N. troop contingents on the scene."

"As far as I know," the President said, "these rules have previously been upheld by the Soviet Union itself. Therefore, it would be doubly serious if such participation by military units were part of an operation in the civil war which has recently taken on very ugly overtones."

The emphasis and choice of words left little doubt that Eisenhower shares with key American officials a strong suspicion that Russian military men in civilian clothes are flying for the Congo.

At another turn in the news conference, Eisenhower said there appear to be very definite reasons for his appearing at the U.N. General Assembly session which opens Sept. 20. But he said the chances are very, very slim that he will meet there with Soviet Premier Nikita Khrushchev, who has announced his intention to be present.

"I do not intend to debate the United Nations by being a party to a, well, a battle of invective and propaganda," he said.

Improvements At State Fair Are Reviewed

TIMONIUM, Md. (AP) — Past and future improvements at the Maryland State Fair were outlined Wednesday for a group of farm organization officials.

About 75 leaders of such groups heard the discussion at a luncheon highlighting "Farm Bureau Day" at the 79th annual fair.

J. Homer Remsburg, a member of the State Fair and Agricultural Society which operates the fair, noted that $4 million in improvements had been undertaken at the Timonium farm showplace in the last 10 years.

The biggest item was a $16 million project to renovate the grandstand, paddock and jockey quarters at the race track operated in connection with the fair, he said.

"We all realized that the track carries a large part of the fair expense and that it was vitally necessary to carry out some immediate reconstruction on the track," Remsburg said. He detailed other improvements in the sewage system, water supply, roads, livestock quarters and 4-H Club boys' dormitory at the fairgrounds.

Remsburg said the fair was an important factor in the tripling of farm income in Maryland during the last two decades.

Gordon M. Cairns, another board member, told the luncheon audience that further improvements were under consideration.

Officials reported 11,330 persons visited the fairgrounds Wednesday for the horse races, livestock judging and midway amusements.

Venue Change Sought In Case Of Riot Figure

OCEAN CITY, Md. (AP) — A change of venue will be asked for the police court hearing of a young Marine whose arrest touched off a riot of 2,000 teen-agers here late Sunday night.

Daniel T. Prettyman, state's attorney, said, if the change is granted, the case of PFC Laren Baker, of Baltimore, will be heard Saturday morning in Snow Hill, Worcester County seat.

Baker was arrested Sunday after he refused to leave a boardwalk amusement center owned by George J. Galkas.

He was released from the hospital Monday afternoon and was transferred to the Worcester County jail in Snow Hill.

"The pre-employment investigation was conducted by the Department of Defense and not by the FBI," the Justice Department said.

Walter said Tuesday he understood the FBI had informed NSA before Mitchell and Martin were hired that one of them was a homosexual. Walter did not identify which of the two he meant.

The Justice Department declined to say whether adverse information on the two men showed up after they went on the NSA payroll and, if so, what was done about it.

—Pressed by newsmen, a Defense Department spokesman said "I am informed there is not" anything in the personnel record of either Mitchell or Martin indicating homosexuality.

Without naming either, the Pentagon said Tuesday one of the pair was mentally sick.

Homosexual tendencies or mental instability would be enough to class a person as a security risk, as would any Communist connections.

—Announcing plans for the hearings starting Sept. 16, Walter said his committee also would consider the recent defection to the Soviet Union of Vladimir Sloboda, a Polish-born Army intelligence sergeant who vanished from Frankfurt, Germany.

Houston School Desegregation Move Awaited

HOUSTON, Tex. (AP)—Negroes sought to enroll at six white schools Wednesday as authorities made another unsuccessful effort to delay grade-a-year integration of the nation's largest segregated school district.

Plainclothes policemen patrolled corridors at two schools but no incidents occurred as fall classes began.

Parents of the 13 Negroes seeking to enter all-white classes were told a ruling on eligibility of the children will be made Friday. No actual classroom attendance of Negroes is expected before Monday.

Parents of nine other Negro youngsters made preregistration applications last week.

One parent protested it was unfair for his son to be unable to enroll Wednesday since white students were doing so.

But there were no disturbances and no crowds gathered at the schools. Police Chief Carl Shuptrine also kept all uniformed police on duty.

Joe Reynolds, school board attorney, made hasty plans for another effort to delay the federal court integration order.

Reynolds was preparing to leave for the airport when U.S. Dist. Judge Ben C. Connally, holding court in Laredo, advised him by telephone not to come. Connally told Reynolds to wait and see what course integration takes before trying for another stay.

He the seven-day-old Pennsylvania added that union negotiators Railroad strike "in 24 hours, if would have full authority to negotiate an agreement to end the strike."

Speaking for the TWU and the System Federation, the two striking unions whose 20,000 workers have shut down the railroad for the first time in its 114-year history, Quill put the burden for settlement on the railroad.

If the railroad does not accept the proposals, Quill said, the top union officers "will pack up and leave tomorrow."

He said he would return to New York to conduct the strike from his headquarters there, and would also tour striking locals, beginning perhaps Thursday night with a trip to Pittsburgh.

However, he added that his departure, was the scene of the first rupture and that of other top union leaders would not mean the States.

Judge Sustains Demurrer In Garrett Tax Suit

Associate Judge D. Kenneth McLaughlin of Hagerstown, sitting in Garrett County Circuit Court, has sustained the demurrer of the Garrett County Board of Commissioners from a taxpayers suit brought over the payment of monies to a contractor for drilling at a quarry.

The suit, brought several months ago by Blaine Friend, James Ross, Donald Frazee, Friendsville; Arthur C. Savage, McHenry; Parker Warnick, New Germany; and James Broadwater, Sang Run, contended that payment to A. C. Brennenman (former county commissioner) and John J. Brennenman for work performed at the quarry was illegal.

Judge McLaughlin ruled that the Garrett County Commissioners had the discretion either to pay or not to pay the bill for the work as it was entirely within their province. A payment of $16,206 was paid to the Brennemans on February 4, 1959.

Arguing for sustaining of the demurrer was Stuart F. Hamill Jr., attorney for the county board and Walter W. Dawson. The taxpayers were represented by Horace P. Whitworth Jr., Westernport.

Whitworth said the taxpayers have 30 days in which to file an appeal to the Maryland Court of Appeals but no decision is likely at present. If no appeal is filed, then the case is in effect dismissed.

St. Mary's To Accelerate School Term

St. Mary's Parochial School will have an accelerated school term for the next few months with classes on Saturdays, holy days of obligation and on some legal holidays, according to Rev. Charles Bogan, pastor.

Father Bogan said that the accelerated program is to obtain credit for three to four weeks of school time to make up for lost days when the present building is to be razed. This will be a program so that there can be an orderly transition from the old school to the new one under construction.

Under state law there has to be at least 180 days and the speed up for the coming months will provide for the time off, probably late next winter.

St. Mary's Catholic Church is having a new elementary school, costing about $400,000, erected on what is the old parking lot in the rear of the school building in use. When the new facilities near completion the school building currently in use will be razed.

It was deemed best to have the pupils get the necessary credits for the school term ahead of this period so that there would be no hazard to them while the old building is being razed.

PEEK-A-BOO COLLAR—The collar that Colonel is wearing may not be stylish, but it is getting a lot of attention. Colonel, owned by Frank A. Kucens, Louisville, Ky., had an infection behind the ear, which he spread by scratching. On the veterinarian's order the bottomless bucket was fastened to his collar to forestall scratching. With such attention-getting attire, the dog is enjoying the affection flooding his way. (AP Photofax)

9-8 The Boy Scout motto makes beauty sense: Be prepared.

Secrets Of Charm

by John Robert Powers

Prepare Ahead For Beauty

Preparation is more than half the job done. More than half the battle won. Thinking ahead, keeping track of supplies, predicting needs before they are needed should be second nature to a smart woman who wants to be ready at all times, either for a long-range plan or an impulsive whim.

What do I mean by preparation? Let me count the ways:

When you know your hair is due for another permanent, you can start giving it conditioning treatments at home even before you call your hairdresser for an appointment.

You might keep a constant and calculating eye on your stockpile of beauty supplies. Each time you give yourself a shampoo or a cream facial, check that you have enough ingredients for next time. Learn to scrutinize the contents of jars and bottles so that you become a judge of quantity. When you notice that a certain item is running low, buy its replacement ahead of time. If it's a real necessity that you use up frequently, buy two containers at a time.

Use the same system in checking your wardrobe, particularly stockings and basic lingerie. When you find a brand that's a real buy and, what's more, that fits you as well as your purse, take duplicates in the shade you wear most often, and another one or two in other colors. Alternating wear will make each garment last twice as long . . . and you'll never be forced to buy such personal essentials in a haphazard rush.

Closest away a dress or suit ONLY when it is ready for its next appearance — aired, dried, cleaned if necessary, pressed and mended. This way, surprise dates can never be unpleasant shocks, valuable grooming time will never be taken up with frantic last-minute refurbishing. Or shopping, which is even worse.

Whether you are dreaming up a grocery list or composing a speech for the women's club, make notes. Mental notes are better than none, but jotted down, they produce better results. Eyes are experts at retaining thoughts, even for women who compliment themselves on being great ad-libbers. Something real to read over prevents you from buying too much or talking too long, both of them pointlessly.

Each time you eat, save a couple of calories to spend on an unexpected nibble, or a tempting dessert at the next meal. Diet deliberately for a day or two before dining out or partying, before a long holiday weekend or a vacation trip. And for the easiest, most pleasant-to-follow diet guide you'll ever find, send me, JRP, c/o this paper, a dime and a stamped, return envelope for my handy guide, "Your Beauty Diet." You'll be surprised at how easy my pamphlet makes your dieting. (Please allow at least two weeks for delivery of this guide.)

For, as vital in an emergency as the spare tire on a car, this is that "extra pound" that you can always afford to gain.

Land Trial Opens Today

Chief Judge Morgan C. Harris and Associate Judge Neil C. Fraley, of Oakland, will preside at the trial in Circuit Court here today for Garland Groh, wealthy Washington County landowner and attorney.

Groh was indicted by a Washington County grand jury on charges of irregularities in connection with the notation on a deed as to the consideration in a land transaction.

The trial is scheduled for a hearing before a jury. The case was removed here for hearing on petition of defense attorneys.

Judges Harris and Fraley denied a motion to quash the indictment at a hearing held here last May.

Liquor License Is Transferred

The Allegany County Board of Alcoholic Beverage License Commissioners yesterday granted tentative approval for the transfer of the beer, wine and liquor license held by Carl Decker at 402 Virginia Avenue to Hugh Kifer for a building he will erect on U. S. Route 40 near the Six Mile House. Kifer and Decker have agreed on the transfer of the permit and Kifer told the board he has a receipt for a building permit issued by the LaVale Zoning Board. He also said he will be able to comply with the sanitation requirements of the County Board of Health.

The site of the new business, which will be a package goods liquor store, is in a commercial area with very few residential properties.

Right-Of-Way Deeds Are Recorded

Deeds providing for rights of way into the new shopping center at the Six Mile House were recorded yesterday at the Court House.

The rights of way were obtained by the LaVale Plaza Building Company from Irvin C. and Doris M. Cecil, Frederick H. and Arlene M. Beeman, and Joseph A. and Teresa B. Smith.

Sloths are known for their peculiar way of hanging upside down when walking about the branches of the trees that form their home in the forests of Central and South America.

Group Seeks Action On Junk Yard

Four residents of McCoolle Road, State Route 135, appeared Tuesday before the Board of Allegany County Commissioners to voice their opposition to the operation and proposed expansion of a junk yard in their neighborhood.

The delegation composed of Arthur Ravenscroft, William McIntyre, Frederick Downie and William Angle, was represented by Jack I. Mullen and Miller H. Bowen, local attorneys.

Mullen pointed out that the Reeves Motors Inc. has been stockpiling junked cars, with some of them being held as long as ten years.

The county law requires the autos to be dismantled and moved within a reasonable time, he added.

Also the county's junk yard regulations calls for the dismantling to be done indoors, but at the Reeves yard it is done in the open, Mullen maintained. The firm has also failed to erect a fence as required, he said.

Of concern to the delegation, the lawyers pointed out, was the purchase of adjoining property by the company, and Mullen said clearing work has started.

A check of permits showed that none had been issued for expansion of the yard, which would be in front of two of the homes of the delegation members, he said.

The commissioners took the matter under consideration, and the county attorney, Leslie J. Clark, was instructed to go into provisions of expansion of junk yards that were in operation before the county law was enacted in 1957.

Valley Road Church Holding Revival

A revival service opened Tuesday at the Assembly of God Church on Valley Road.

Rev. Earnest Nelson will conduct the services using the theme, "Glad Tidings Tabernacle." Rev. Elva Brotemarkle is pastor of the church. The services begin daily at 7:30 p. m.

When Khrushchev Visits The UN

Nikita Khrushchev, who is in effect if not in title emperor of the Soviet empire, will head his country's delegation to the United Nations General Assembly session which opens next week. This will be the first time since the UN's inception that a Soviet leader has done so.

Last year Khrushchev addressed the General Assembly in a side trip during his visit to the United States. This time he will not be "visiting" the U. S., and the UN will be the focus of his trip. Why?

He is coming, quite obviously, in order to enhance his own prestige and that of the Soviet Union. Prestige is a more important facet of national power than is generally realized.

By wangling an invitation to visit America, by exploiting the U-2 incident and scuttling the summit conference, by refusing to permit "such a man" as Eisenhower to visit Russia, he has been playing for prestige. And now he is about to slip into the United States again through the back door, without an invitation.

African and Asian nations in the UN, greatly in the minority when the organization was set up, are becoming numerous. To them, Khrushchev will pose as the hero who rushes to the defense of little countries like the Congo and Cuba, even daring to threaten to shoot rockets at the United States to "defend" their independence.

Khrushchev will also attempt to pose as a promoter of peace, seeking to turn the UN session into a summit conference and a disarmament conference to make propaganda and subvert American prestige.

In short, Khrushchev's aim is to turn the orderly proceedings of the General Assembly into a three-ring circus.

The Splinters

Herbert C. Holdridge, Brigadier General, U. S. Army (Retired) is a very busy man. He conducts a mail enterprise entitled "Reveille."

There are those who say that one should disregard such publications, but I disagree. There are others who say that one should not give publicity to all the odds and ends of ideas and personalities and movements that appear and disappear, but I disagree. These splinter movements are very significant; particularly when they persist over a long period, develop a following and get themselves financed. In the present campaign there are many of them which are particularly violent against John Kennedy.

But General Holdridge is not only opposed to John Kennedy; he is also opposed to Richard Nixon. He conducts a propaganda against both candidates. He says of them:

"... Rigged political parties, rigged national committees, rigged primaries, rigged conventions, rigged nominations, rigged campaign strategies—the total government of the United States, including the two political party monstrosities, rigged by the International, Front of the Wall Street (Big Money)-Vatican (Jesuit) Axis."

Now to some this may sound like mad talk; to others it represents the Conspiracy with a capital C. Be a columnist and every day you will receive mail about the Conspiracy. The big conspirator, according to such folks, now is Governor Nelson Rockefeller who has bought both political parties. Holdridge says:

"... We do not have two political parties, as we claim, or even one political party as is ascribed to Russia. Our political campaigns become shadow-boxing between rival gangs of puppets carrying out the orders of the 'riggers.' To isolate campaign issues from the poisonous concoctions brewed by these political bedfellows will be beyond the powers even of the Madison Avenue boys—true sons of the Jesuits—who are experts in scientific falsification and double-talk.

"The 1960 elections are already null and void by reason of criminal fraud and treason against the Constitution, perpetrated by international outlaws operating through internal puppets. . . ."

Now, who are these international outlaws? Well nowadays it is the "Invisible Government." This invisible body is a union of Wall Street and the Vatican. Years ago, it was all run by Bernard M. Baruch but this year, it is Pope John XXIII. Having called Joseph, John and Robert Kennedy all sorts of names, General Holdridge turns on Nixon:

"Slippery Dick! Kennedy's counterpart in the Republican Party, holds a record for criminal, ruthless assassinations of political opponents (Jerry Voorhis and Helen Gahagan Douglas). Raised to power primarily by Big Money as Kennedy was by the Vatican. . . ."

"When the dirty fight between these two dirty fighters is over, the election will go to the one preferred by the Invisible Government. 'Owning' both 'boys' in the ring, how can they lose?"

After a long harangue against every person associated with either party as a leader of any kind, Holdridge reaches this amazing conclusion:

"If it were not for the hatreds distilled by the Vatican against the 'commies', in support of Big Money, the world would be at peace!"

What General Holdridge advocates is a national plebiscite without regard to political parties. His alternative:

"The ultimate alternative is civil war—opening the road to economic, religious and racial hatreds under our competitive economy and inspired by Wall Street and the Vatican. The result—a holocaust of blood-letting! An era of corruption, of exploitation, of expropriation, of bankruptcy, of national and international hatreds will blow itself up in an H-bomb war and civil war. God help the man holding the office of President, whoever he may be, when that catastrophe strikes. . . ."

A mailing to thousands of persons in this election year of this sort of propaganda is expensive. According to a financial report, General Holdridge Minute Men operates on a small budget. Of this, the report says:

"Yet with a pitifully small budget we have accomplished miracles, proving again that Truth (the Pen) is mightier than the sword. Our materials have reached hundreds of thousands of individuals in the United States. They have been translated and printed in foreign countries, major offices of Government, Federal, State and political headquarters: the large newspapers, Church organizations: labor, veteran and economic organizations, the United Nations, foreign embassies, major centers of public decision have been circularized. . . ."

This is one example of a continuous mail that pours into this office from many sources, indicating not only an unrest but a financially supported unrest.

The Non-Transferable Magic Of Eisenhower

By Joseph Alsop

CLEVELAND, Ohio. If anyone needs proof that President Eisenhower's personal popularity has done little to help his party, proof is easy to find here in Cleveland. The return to old Democratic voting habits looks like being a massive migration this year, in this key city of the key state of Ohio.

This is the deduction that has to be drawn, at any rate, from a highly intensive poll of three swing precincts in Cleveland by Ray Dorsey and Bill Williams, of "The Cleveland Plain Dealer," and this reporter. We can speak with authority for these precincts. They cast a total of only 904 votes in 1956, and we rang doorbells along Torbenston Drive and West 100th Street and West 39th Street until we had filled out no less than 140 polling sheets.

The results require only a short introduction. In brief, the people of these precincts, unlike the people of Cleveland as a whole, are predominantly Protestant. Our sample included 71 Protestants, 67 Catholics and four Jews. Thus it was weighted in Vice President Richard M. Nixon's favor on the so-called religious issue.

Our sample was also weighted in Nixon's favor by the test of votes previously cast. The precincts were chosen as probably barometric, because they had given handsome majorities to President Eisenhower, and had then turned around to give majorities, in 1958, to Democratic Gov. Mike DiSalle. Our sample duly showed a DiSalle majority. But it also showed an Eisenhower majority proportionally far exceeding the precinct totals in 1956.

The people in our sample had in fact given no less than 71 votes to Eisenhower and only 39 to Adlai E. Stevenson, with 30 not voting that year. But these same people, who had gone for Eisenhower almost 2 to 1, now went for Sen. John F. Kennedy by better than 6 to 5. The actual vote was 64 for Kennedy, 50 for Nixon and 26 undecided.

Maybe Ray Dorsey, Bill Williams and I are wholly wrong, but we all think that our three precincts were strictly average neighborhoods, exactly representing the kind of neighborhood that cut Cleveland's normally huge Democratic majority down to a mere 30,000 votes in 1956. You can see how the Eisenhower magic worked in Cleveland that year, when you remember that in 1958 DiSalle got 207,900 votes in Cleveland, against only 65,600 for the Republican gubernatorial candidate, O'Neill.

Anyone who visited precinct BB of Ward One, or AA of Ward 26, or L of Ward 6, would at once conclude that these neighborhoods were Republican territory. On all their pleasant streets, we saw only one apartment building and found not more than two two-family houses. In two of the precincts, most houses dated from the building boom of the early twenties. But they have been admirably kept up, and one found one's self wondering why more people, nowadays, do not choose homes of this sort, with big, haphazard shaped rooms and wide, vine-shaded porches. The third precinct was newer, glossier, and even more prosperous.

The people in these neighbor-

CRACKDOWN — A handful of persons with an unfortunate set of convictions are about to feel the weight of federal law because of their refusal to cooperate with the census takers earlier this year.

Scattered across the land and unknown to each other, they have two things in common—they believe their homes are their castles, and they face sentences of 60 days in jail or $100 fines or both.

There are only six of them out of the 180 million U. S. citizens who were asked for information during the 1960 decennial census. One of these, Victor Sharrow of New York, declined to give information because he held that the census is used to determine Congressional representation, and is being used illegally in states where some citizens are denied the vote.

The reasons of the others for refusing to give information are more personal. One claimed that questions about how he refrigerated his food were an invasion of privacy. Another claimed this same invasion was present in questions concerning his income. A third declined to give the value of his house for the same reason. One claimed the census violates constitutional guarantees against unreasonable search and seizure.

CLUBMEN — Only one club in America can boast with certitude that one of its members will be the next President of the United States.

The Alfalfa Club, a Washington fun organization, is composed of outstanding local businessmen, community leaders and a selected assortment of political bigshots.

Senator John F. Kennedy and Vice President Richard M. Nixon, Presidential nominees of both political parties, are members. So are Vice Presidential nominees Senator Lyndon B. Johnson and Henry Cabot Lodge.

Jet Smoke And Los Angeles' Smog Problem

By Dr. Theodore R. Van Dellen

Los Angeles residents near the International airport have wondered whether the smoke trailing from jet aircraft contributes to their smog problem. Authorities say no. The smoke plume at the take-off lasts less than the 3 minutes permitted under the state health and safety code. It comes from injecting water into the fuel on take-off. The less dense smoke emitted during landing and other phases of operation does not exceed the lawful opacity.

Jet traffic is expected to increase 475 per cent by 1965 but the Los Angeles county air pollution will not be significant in the smog picture. The noise and vibration probably will create a greater nuisance.

Surgeons are ingenious fellows. If an organ has to go, and a replacement is needed, a substitute can be designed by the Mainbochers of the surgical field. Take esophagus: If it has to be removed because of cancer, various procedures have been devised to give the patient a gullet.

The stomach has been the most popular substitute but recently a Memphis physician, Dr. Robert P. McBurney, utilized the colon to reconstruct the esophagus. This technique allows the stomach to stay in its normal site and the patient can swallow well and maintain normal weight and nutrition.

Do women have a prostate gland? No, but they have a series of glands near the opening of the bladder which cause all the symptoms of prostatism when they enlarge. Obstruction of the bladder follows, which leads to difficulty in urination, especially in starting. Frequency develops when the condition progresses and surgery is needed for alleviation.

These symptoms are the same as those that occur in men and the disorder is known as "the female prostate." I doubt if the gals at the bridge club will believe it if one of the women brags about her prostate operation.

TOMORROW: Brucellosis, an occupational disease.

UNDERARM HAIR Mrs. T. writes: I want to have the hair in my armpits removed by electrolysis but my physician says no. I thought this was an approved method of removing unwanted hair.

Navy Retaliates Against Enlisted Men Who Gripped To Their Wives

By Jack Anderson

(Editor's note — While Drew Pearson is taking a brief vacation, his column is being written by his associate, Jack Anderson.)

WASHINGTON — The Pentagon admirals, who have openly revolted against their civilian superiors more than once in the past decade, won't tolerate such nonsense from their own men.

They have now lowered the boom on a few lowly enlisted men for the crime of complaining to their families. The offenders are disgruntled band members who wrote letters home, disputing the Navy's version of what happened to them on their tragic trip to South America.

Their letters complained that the Navy had staged a rigged press conference to deny the facts surrounding the deaths of 19 handsmen in an air crash over Rio de Janeiro.

For the press powwow, the Navy rounded up six petty officers who dutifully denied this column's report that the band had been sent to South America to provide musical accompaniment for President Eisenhower's good-will tour, that they had been loaded into a beaten-up plane to fly over the Andes while Ike brought along an air armada of plush jets and transports flying empty, and that the handsmen flatly refused to board one plane obviously unfit to fly.

The other band members, who weren't invited to the press conference, angrily drafted a petition charging that the six didn't speak for the majority but were stooges who would say whatever the Navy wished. Over 30 signed the petition before their superiors persuaded them to tear it up.

Admirals' Vengeance

This did not prevent them from writing home, however, about what had happened. Some of their letters fell into the hands of John Moss, the crusading California Congressman, who has been investigating Government suppression of information.

Moss's investigators got hold of the letters before the handsmen even returned to Washington. They were guilty of nothing more than writing the truth to their wives.

Meanwhile, the Navy assigned Capt. Herbert Schwab to investigate the band and recommend what should be done about it.

"There will be no retaliation against any of the men," he assured this column.

But obviously he wasn't speaking for the admirals whose vengeance he underestimated. Every man whose letters could be traced had his personnel record stamped with these words:

"In accordance with established criteria for the evaluation of enlisted performance, this man cannot justifiably be graded higher in military behavior, leadership, and adaptability. His actions after the Rio tragedy demonstrated a lack of requisite qualities in these categories."

The effect of this judgment is to bar them from future promotion and wreck their Navy careers.

Lesson From Truman

That old political warrior, Harry Truman, volunteered the first lesson in his give-'em-hell technique the other day to the man who is running for his old job, Sen. Jack Kennedy.

Truman was discussing the election campaign with Senate leader Lyndon Johnson in a Senate hideaway when Kennedy strode in to greet them.

The Presidential candidate pumped the ex-President's hand and declared how much he had appreciated their visit together in Independence, Mo.

"I'll tell you what I told Lyndon," responded Truman. "You shouldn't waste time campaigning in areas where you are strong. Go into areas where they are against you. Let them meet you and get to know you. That's what I did in 1948."

Politics And Partying

Washington's two chief industries — politics and partying — are more flourishing than ever these days. And the hostesses with the mostes are mixing the two; they drop pearls of political wisdom on the slightest provocation.

Perle Mesta, making a comeback as Washington's No. 1 party giver, now says she "was" for Lyndon Johnson. The inference is that she's not any more.

At Lyndon's recent birthday party, however, Perle up and kissed him with all the vehemence of one who still has a personal affinity if no longer a political affinity.

While Washington society was all twitter over whether Perle was or wasn't for Lyndon, her rival party-giver, Gwendolyn Cafritz, gushed forth with her own views.

"I like Jack," Mrs. Cafritz was quoted as saying, "but I think we would be safer with Dick."

When Gwendolyn was chided by her Democratic friends over this, she sweetly demurred.

"The papers misquoted me," she purred. "I didn't say Dick. I referred to him as the Vice President."

Press Agency

By Leslie Gould

The case of TelAutograph stock—which has given the N.Y. Stock Exchange its biggest headache in years—is one of too much press agency.

This is not a new development in the market. More and more unusual movements are reflecting activities of so-called public relations, or more correctly, press agent firms.

Such goings on have been more frequent on the smaller American Stock Exchange and, to a greater degree, in the over-the-counter market, but the Stock Exchange has not been immune to such activity.

Some of the high-powered publicity operations have backfired and the public has been burned. This is particularly true in the last month over-the-counter, where the wildest fluctuations have occurred in stocks of little known or unknown companies—mostly with an electronic flavor.

TelAutograph shares had been relatively quiet—trading as slow as 300 and 500 shares a day less than two weeks ago. Then, the company put out through its publicity firm a press release that touched off heavy buying, bringing turnover in one day to 279,900 shares—more than half the number of all the company's shares outstanding.

The stock, which had sold at $7.62½ in those slow trading days, jumped to $24, when trading was first suspended. It got up to $24.50 after that, but the last trade was at $19.50.

A good deal of the buying was by a wild-eyed—not wide-eyed—public stimulated by the press release.

The company is headed by Raymond Lee, 50—whose previous activity had been mainly in promoting products for waving women's hair and holding milady's hair set. One of his products was Toni, which he sold out before its promotion.

Lee staunchly defends his press release, but as the market proved it lent itself to misinterpretation, one such being that the company was the first to hook up with American Telephone for its teletyping machine. It wasn't. A rival company — Comptometer, stock of which also went wild — was the first to have its machine tested and approved by A. T. & T.

But to no company will A. T. & T. give an exclusive franchise. From Mr. Lee's press release there were the following:

"This means that it is now possible to send a hand-written message instantaneously by telephone by use of the TelAutograph typewriter. . . ."

Mr. Lee predicted that use of telecribing equipment will increase one hundred fold as a result of this development. . . .

"There are innumerable applications of the American Telephone-TelAutograph system. . . ."

"Mr. Lee pointed out that the decision by the telephone company also holds great promise for TelAutograph's other graphic communications equipment. . . ."

"Interestingly, Elisha Grey, who invented telecriber and founded TelAutograph Company in 1888, was a rival of Alexander Graham Bell in the invention of the telephone. Bell obtained his patent only days before Grey was ready. The latter then invented a machine that would send long-hand over wires.

"The new System, for the first time, combines the great wedding of the work of Bell and Grey."

So, the current gag in Wall Street is that TelAutograph and Comptometer are going to merge and then take over A. T. & T.

The situation in both stocks is no joke. It would have been more serious, but for the actions of the Stock Exchange specialist—John A. Coleman—backed up by the vice chairman Truman Bidwell and the other governors in suspending trading when the market in the two issues became hysterical.

The company's official name is TelAutograph—The "T" and "A" in capital letters—but in the press release quotations above the spelling is "TELautograph." It just so happens that TEL is the symbol for the shares on the Stock Exchange. A coincidence?

Deaths And Funerals In The Tri-State Area

JAMES C. REED
James C. Reed, 49, of 317 Mc-Mullen Highway, a staff employee in the engineering department of the Amcelle plant of Celanese Fibers Company, was found dead yesterday shortly after reporting for work.
He was found in one of the men's washrooms at the plant and it is believed he died of a heart attack. His body was found by fellow employees about 8:40 a. m.

When Khrushchev Visits The UN

Nikita Khrushchev, who is in effect if not in title emperor of the Soviet empire, will head his country's delegation to the United Nations General Assembly session which opens next week. This will be the first time since the UN's inception that a Soviet leader has done so.

Last year Khrushchev addressed the General Assembly in a side trip during his visit to the United States. This time he will not be "visiting" the U. S., and the UN will be the focus of his trip. Why?

He is coming, quite obviously, in order to enhance his own prestige and that of the Soviet Union. Prestige is a more important facet of national power than is generally realized.

By wangling an invitation to visit America, by exploiting the U-2 incident and scuttling the summit conference, by refusing to permit "such a man" as Eisenhower to visit Russia, he has been playing for prestige. And now he is about to slip into the United States again through the back door, without an invitation.

African and Asian nations in the UN, greatly in the minority when the organization was set up, are becoming numerous. To them, Khrushchev will pose as the hero who rushes to the defense of little countries like the Congo and Cuba, even daring to threaten to shoot rockets at the United States to "defend" their independence.

Khrushchev will also attempt to pose as a promoter of peace, seeking to turn the UN session into a summit conference and a disarmament conference to make propaganda and subvert American prestige.

In short, Khrushchev's aim is to turn the orderly proceedings of the General Assembly into a three-ring circus.

The Splinters

Herbert C. Holdridge, Brigadier General, U. S. Army (Retired) is a very busy man. He conducts a mail enterprise entitled "Reveille."

There are those who say that one should disregard such publications, but I disagree. There are others who say that one should not give publicity to all the odds and ends of ideas and personalities and movements that appear and disappear, but I disagree. These splinter movements are very significant, particularly when they persist over a long period, develop a following and get themselves financed. In the present campaign there are many of them which are particularly violent against John Kennedy.

But General Holdridge is not only opposed to John Kennedy; he is also opposed to Richard Nixon. He conducts a propaganda against both candidates. He says of them:

"... Rigged political parties, rigged national committees, rigged primaries, rigged conventions, rigged nominations, rigged campaign strategies—the total government of the United States, including the two political party monstrosities, rigged by the International Front of the Wall Street (Big Money)-Vatican (Jesuit) Axis."

Now to some this may sound like mad talk; to others it represents the Conspiracy with a capital C. Be a columnist and every day you will receive mail about the Conspiracy. The big conspirator, according to such folks, now is Governor Nelson Rockefeller who has bought both political parties. Holdridge says:

"... We do not have two political parties, as we claim, or even one political party as is ascribed to Russia. Our political campaigns become shadow-boxing between rival gangs of puppets carrying out the orders of the 'riggers.' To isolate campaign issues from the poisonous concoctions brewed by these political bedfellows will be beyond the powers even of the Madison Avenue boys—true sons of the Jesuits—who are experts in scientific falsification and double-talk."

"The 1960 elections are already null and void by reason of criminal fraud and treason against the Constitution, perpetrated by international outlaws operating through internal puppets..."

Now, who are these international outlaws? Well, nowadays it is the "Invisible Government." This invisible body is a union of Wall Street and the Vatican. Years ago, it was all run by Bernard M. Baruch but this year, it is Pope John XXIII. Having called Joseph, John and Robert Kennedy all sorts of names, General Holdridge turns on Nixon:

"'Slippery Dick' Kennedy's counterpart in the Republican Party, holds a record for criminal, ruthless assassinations of political opponents (Jerry Voorhis and Helen Gahagan Douglas). Raised to power primarily by Big Money as Kennedy was by the Vatican..."

"When the dirty fight between these two dirty fighters is over, the election will go to the one preferred by the Invisible Government. 'Owning' both 'boys' in the ring, how can they lose?"

After a long harangue against every person associated with either party as a leader of any kind, Holdridge reaches this amazing conclusion:

"If it were not for the hatreds distilled by the Vatican against the 'commies', in support of Big Money, the world would be at peace!"

What General Holdridge advocates is a national plebiscite without regard to political parties. His alternative:

"The ultimate alternative is civil war—opening the road to economic, religious and racial hatreds under our competitive economy and inspired by Wall Street and the Vatican. The result—a holocaust of blood-letting! An era of corruption, of exploitation, of expropriation, of bankruptcy, of national and international hatreds will blow itself up in an H-bomb war and civil war. God help the man holding the office of President, whoever he may be, when that catastrophe strikes..."

A mailing to thousands of persons in this election year of this sort of propaganda is expensive. According to a financial report, General Holdridge Minute Men operates on a small budget. Of this, the report says:

"Yet with a pitifully small budget we have accomplished miracles, proving again that Truth (the Pen) is mightier than the sword. Our materials have reached hundreds of thousands of individuals in the United States. They have been translated and printed in foreign countries, major offices of Government, Federal, State and political headquarters; the large newspapers, Church organizations; labor, veteran and economic organizations, the United Nations, foreign embassies, major centers of public decision have been circularized..."

This is one example of a continuous mail that pours into this office from many sources, indicating not only an unrest but a financially supported unrest.

Rathole To Russia

The Non-Transferable Magic Of Eisenhower

By Joseph Alsop

CLEVELAND, Ohio.

If anyone needs proof that President Eisenhower's personal popularity has done little to help his party, proof is easy to find here in Cleveland. The return to old Democratic voting habits looks like being a massive migration this year, in this key city of the key state of Ohio.

This is the deduction that has to be drawn, at any rate, from a highly intensive poll of three swing precincts in Cleveland by Ray Dorsey and Bill Williams, of "The Cleveland Plain Dealer," and this reporter. We can speak with authority for these precincts. They cast a total of only 904 votes in 1956, and we rang doorbells along Torbenson Drive and West 100th Street and West 39th Street until we had filled out no less than 140 polling sheets.

The results require only a short introduction. In brief, the people of these precincts, unlike the people of Cleveland as a whole, are predominantly Protestant. Our sample included 71 Protestants, 67 Catholics and four Jews. Thus it was weighted in Vice President Richard M. Nixon's favor on the so-called religious issue.

Our sample was also weighted in Nixon's favor by the test of votes previously cast. The precincts were chosen as probably barometric, because they had given handsome majorities to President Eisenhower, and had then turned around to give majorities, in 1958, to Democratic Gov. Mike DiSalle. Our sample duly showed a DiSalle majority. But it also showed an Eisenhower majority proportionally far exceeding the precinct totals in 1956.

The people in our sample had in fact given no less than 71 votes to Eisenhower and only 39 to Adlai E. Stevenson, with 30 not voting that year. But these same people, who had gone for Eisenhower almost 2 to 1, now went for Sen. John F. Kennedy by better than 6 to 5. The actual vote was 64 for Kennedy, 50 for Nixon and 26 undecided.

Maybe Ray Dorsey, Bill Williams and I are wholly wrong, but we all think that our three precincts were strictly average neighborhoods, exactly representing the kind of neighborhood that cut Cleveland's normally huge Democratic majority down to a mere 30,000 votes in 1956. You can see how the Eisenhower magic worked in Cleveland that year, when you remember that in 1958 DiSalle got 207,900 votes in Cleveland, against only 65,600 for the Republican gubernatorial candidate, O'Neill.

Anyone who visited precinct BB of Ward One, or AA of Ward 26, or L of Ward 6, would at once conclude that these neighborhoods were Republican territory. On all their pleasant streets, we saw only one apartment building and found not more than two two-family houses. In two of the precincts, most houses dated from the building boom of the early twenties. But they have been admirably kept up, and one found one's self wondering why more people, nowadays, do not choose homes of this sort, with big, haphazard shaped rooms and wide, vine-shaded porches. The third precinct was newer, glossier, and even more prosperous.

The people in these neighborhoods

Inside Washington

CRACKDOWN — A handful of persons with an unfortunate set of convictions are about to feel the weight of federal law because of their refusal to cooperate with the census takers earlier this year.

Scattered across the land and unknown to each other, they have two things in common—they believe their homes are their castles, and they face sentences of 60 days in jail or $100 fines or both.

There are only six of them out of the 180 million U. S. citizens who were asked for information during the 1960 decennial census. One of these, Victor Sharrow of New York, declined to give information because he held that the census is used to determine Congressional representation, and is being used illegally in states where some citizens are denied the vote.

The reasons of the others for refusing to give information are more personal. One claimed that questions about how he refrigerated his food were an invasion of privacy. Another claimed this same invasion was present in questions concerning his income. A third declined to give the value of his house for the same reason. One claimed the census violates constitutional guarantees against unreasonable search and seizure.

CLUBMEN — Only one club in America can boast with certitude that one of its members will be the next President of the United States.

The Alfalfa Club, a Washington fun organization, is composed of outstanding local businessmen, community leaders and a selected assortment of political bigshots.

Senator John F. Kennedy and Vice President Richard M. Nixon, Presidential nominees of both political parties, are members. So are Vice Presidential nominees Senator Lyndon B. Johnson and Henry Cabot Lodge.

Jet Smoke And Los Angeles' Smog Problem

By Dr. Theodore R. Van Dellen

Los Angeles residents near the International airport have wondered whether the smoke trailing from jet aircraft contributes to their smog problem. Authorities say no. The smoke plume at the take-off lasts less than the 3 minutes permitted under the state health and safety code. It comes from injecting water into the fuel on take-off. The less dense smoke emitted during landing and other phases of operation does not exceed the lawful opacity.

Jet traffic is expected to increase 475 per cent by 1965 but the Los Angeles county air pollution will not be significant in the smog picture. The noise and vibration probably will create a greater nuisance.

Surgeons are ingenious fellows. If an organ has to go, and a replacement is needed, a substitute can be designed by the Mainbochers of the surgical field. Take esophagus: If it has to be removed because of cancer, various procedures have been devised to give the patient a gullet.

The stomach has been the most popular substitute but recently a Memphis physician, Dr. Robert P. McBurney, utilized the colon to reconstruct the esophagus. This technique allows the stomach to stay in its normal site and the patient can swallow well and maintain normal weight and nutrition.

Do women have a prostate gland? No, but they have a series of glands near the opening of the bladder which cause all the symptoms of prostatism when they enlarge. Obstruction of the bladder follows, which leads to difficulty in urination, especially in starting. Frequency develops when the condition progresses and surgery is needed for alleviation.

These symptoms are the same as those that occur in men and the disorder is known as "the female prostate." I doubt if the gals at the bridge club will believe it if one of the women brags about her prostate operation.

TOMORROW: Brucellosis, an occupational disease.

Navy Retaliates Against Enlisted Men Who Griped To Their Wives

By Jack Anderson

(Editor's note — While Drew Pearson is taking a brief vacation, his column is being written by his associate, Jack Anderson.)

WASHINGTON — The Pentagon admirals, who have openly revolted against their civilian superiors more than once in the past decade, won't tolerate such nonsense from their own men.

They have now lowered the boom on a few lowly enlisted men for the crime of complaining to their families. The offenders are disgruntled band members who wrote letters home, disputing the Navy's version of what happened to them on their tragic trip to South America.

Their letters complained that the Navy had staged a rigged press conference to deny the facts surrounding the deaths of 19 handsmen in an air crash over Rio de Janeiro.

For the press powwow, the Navy rounded up six petty officers who dutifully denied this column's report that the band had been sent to South America to provide musical accompaniment for President Eisenhower's good-will tour, that they had been loaded into a beaten-up plane to fly over the Andes while like brought along an air armada of plush jets and transports flying empty, and that the handsmen flatly refused to board one plane obviously unfit to fly.

The other band members, who weren't invited to the press conference, angrily drafted a petition charging that the six didn't speak for the majority but were stooges who would say whatever the Navy wished. Over 30 signed the petition before their superiors persuaded them to tear it up.

Admirals' Vengeance

This did not prevent them from writing home, however, about what had happened. Some of their letters fell into the hands of John Moss, the crusading California Congressman, who has been investigating Government suppression of information.

Moss's investigators got hold of the letters before the handsmen even returned to Washington. They were guilty of nothing more than writing the truth to their wives.

Meanwhile, the Navy assigned Capt. Herbert Schwab to investigate the band and recommend what should be done about it.

"There will be no retaliation against any of the men," he assured this column.

But obviously he wasn't speaking for the admirals whose vengeance he underestimated. Every man whose letters could be traced had his personnel record stamped with these words:

"In accordance with established criteria for the evaluation of enlisted performance, this man cannot justifiably be graded higher in military behavior, leadership, and adaptability. His actions after the Rio tragedy demonstrated a lack of requisite qualities in these categories."

The effect of this judgment is to bar them from future promotion and wreck their Navy careers.

Lesson From Truman

That old political warrior, Harry Truman, volunteered the first lesson in his give-'em-hell technique the other day to the man who is running for his old job, Sen. Jack Kennedy.

Truman was discussing the election campaign with Senate leader Lyndon Johnson in a Senate hideaway when Kennedy strode in to greet them.

The Presidential candidate pumped the ex-President's hand and declared how much he had appreciated their visit together in Independence, Mo.

"I'll tell you what I told Lyndon," responded Truman. "You shouldn't waste time campaigning in areas where you are strong. Go into areas where they are against you. Let them meet you and get to know you. That's what I did in 1948."

Politics And Partying

Washington's two chief industries — politics and partying — are more flourishing than ever these days. And the hostesses with the mostes are mixing the two; they drop pearls of political wisdom on the slightest provocation.

Perle Mesta, making a comeback as Washington's No. 1 party giver, now says she "was" for Lyndon Johnson. The inference is that she's not any more.

At Lyndon's recent birthday party, however, Perle up and kissed him with all the vehemence of one who still has a personal affinity if no longer a political affinity.

While Washington society was all atwitter over whether Perle was or wasn't for Lyndon, her rival party-giver, Gwendolyn Cafritz, gushed forth with her own views.

"I like Jack," Mrs. Cafritz was quoted as saying, "but I think we would be safer with Dick."

When Gwendolyn was chided by her Democratic friends over this, she sweetly demurred.

"The papers misquoted me," she purred. "I didn't say Dick. I referred to him as the Vice President."

Press Agency

By Leslie Gould

The case of TelAutograph stock—which has given the N.Y. Stock Exchange its biggest headache in years—is one of too much press agency.

This is not a new development in the market. More and more unusual movements are reflecting activities of so-called public relations or, more correctly, press agent firms.

Such goings on have been more frequent on the smaller American Stock Exchange and, to a greater degree, in the over-the-counter market, but the Stock Exchange has not been immune to such activity.

Some of the high-powered publicity operations have backfired and the public has been burned. This is particularly true in the last month over-the-counter, where the wildest fluctuations have occurred in stocks of little known or unknown companies—mostly with an electronic flavor.

TelAutograph shares had been relatively quiet—trading as slow as 300 and 500 shares a day less than two weeks ago. Then, the company put out through its publicity firm a press release that touched off heavy buying, bringing turnover in one day to 279,900 shares—more than half the number of all the company's shares outstanding.

The stock, which had sold at $7.62½ in those slow trading days, jumped to $24, when trading was first suspended. It got up to $24.50 after that, but the last trade was at $19.50.

A good deal of the buying was by a wild-eyed—not wide-eyed—public stimulated by the press release.

The company is headed by Raymond Lee, 50—whose previous activity had been mainly in promoting products for waving women's hair and holding milady's hair set. One of his products was Toni, which he sold out before its promotion.

Lee staunchly defends his press release, but as the market proved it lent itself to misinterpretation, one such being that the company was the first to hook up with American Telephone for its telewriting machine. It wasn't. A rival company — Comptometer, stock of which also went wild — was the first to have its machine tested and approved by A. T. & T.

But to no company will A. T. & T. give an exclusive franchise.

From Mr. Lee's press release there were the following:

"This means that it is now possible to send a hand-written message instantaneously by telephone by use of the TelAutograph typewriter..."

Mr. Lee predicted that use of telewriting equipment will increase one hundred fold as a result of this development...

"There are innumerable applications of the American Telephone-TelAutograph system..."

"Mr. Lee pointed out that the decision by the telephone company also holds great promise for TelAutograph's other graphic communications equipment..."

"Interestingly, Elisha Grey, who invented telecriber and founded TelAutograph Company in 1888, was a rival of Alexander Graham Bell in the invention of the telephone. Bell obtained his patent only days before Grey was ready. The latter then invented a machine that would send long-hand over wires."

"The new system, for the first time, combines the great wedding of the work of Bell and Grey."

So, the current gag in Wall Street is that TelAutograph and Comptometer are going to merge and then take over A. T. & T.

The situation in both stocks is no joke. It would have been more serious, but for the actions of the Stock Exchange specialist—John A. Coleman—backed up by the vice chairman Truman Bidwell and the other governors in suspending trading when the market in the two issues became hysterical.

The company's official name is TelAutograph—The "T" and "A" in capital letters—but in the press release quotations above the spelling is "TELautograph." It just so happens that TEL is the symbol for the shares on the Stock Exchange. A coincidence?

Dominating personality behind the annual summer concert series in New York's Lewisohn stadium is, as every music lover knows, a bouncy, irrepressible lady named Minnie Guggenheim. Her daughter Sophia, a golf champion in her own right, has just put together an engaging biography of her ma called "Minnie is Me," replete with hilarious—and dramatic—highlights. There are stories about the annual Gershwin concert that invariably packs the stadium, the night Heifetz played through a Brahms Concerto during a downpour because not one member of the drenched audience moved, and the memorable evening an unknown Marian Anderson made a sensational New York debut in 1925.

Minnie Guggenheim's favorite composer is a man she invariably refers to as "that fine boy, Rodgers Hammerstein."

Jim Perry Scores 16th For Indians

Philley Is Goat As Baltimore's Rally In 9th Fails

CLEVELAND (UPI)—Jim Perry threw a roadblock in the penultimate path of the Baltimore Orioles Wednesday night when he registered his 16th victory of the season while pitching the Cleveland Indians to a 3-2 triumph.

Perry scattered 11 hits, Jackie Brandt had the only extra base hit off Perry, a pair of doubles, each of which contributed to the Orioles' scoring.

The Indians scored twice in the first inning when Ken Aspromonte singled and Tito Francona brought him home with a double. Francona moved to third on an infield out and scored as Woodie Held grounded out to Milt Pappas, who lost his ninth game against 13 wins.

The Orioles scored one run in the seventh on Brandt's double and Gene Woodling's single.

In the eighth the Indians tallied their third run. Harvey Kuenn's double, a walk to Held and an infield single by Jimmy Piersall filled the bases. Kuenn then scored on Vic Power's sacrifice fly.

Dave Philley became the goat of the game when he batted for Pappas in the ninth inning with a man on second. Philley walked, and was immediately picked off first, Perry to Power. Then Brandt hit a double which brought in Gene Stephens who had singled to lead off the inning and reached second on an infield out.

Had Philley not been caught off base he would have scored with the tying run on Brandt's long double.

Money To Promote Navy-Air Force Game Approved

BALTIMORE (AP)—A $3,000 appropriation to promote the Navy-Air Force football game at Memorial Stadium Oct. 15 was approved Wednesday by Baltimore's Board of Estimates.

The money will be used by the Quarterback Club to promote the sale of tickets for the game.

The appropriation was approved after Dr. Frank C. Marino, president of the city's Park Board, which operates the stadium, reported that Navy officials think the city "has a good chance of keeping the game in the future if the stadium is sold out."

There was only one dissenting vote—City Council President Philip H. Goodman, who suggested it would set a bad precedent. He thought the 400 members of the Quarterback Club should "chip in and raise the amount needed."

Marino said the Park Board had agreed to the appropriation when it made arrangements with the Quarterback Club last winter.

Mayor J. Harold Grady questioned the appropriation but then voted for it. Marino told Grady the request had been reported to the mayor "some time ago. It must have slipped your mind."

Liston Victor Over Machen

SEATTLE (AP)—Sonny Liston of Philadelphia won a close 12-round decision Wednesday night over Eddie Machen of Portland, Ore., in a nationally televised fight. Liston weighed 211, Machen 196.

There were no knockdowns, but Liston's wildly-flailing fists landed low in the sixth and 11th rounds.

Machen went down from the second solid smash below the belt and was given a minute to recover. Referee Whitey Donstad took the 11th round away from Liston for the blow.

The decision was unanimous, the referee giving every round but the 11th to the victor. The two judges gave it to Liston by a narrow margin, one by two points and one by four.

The Associated Press card had Liston by three points.

U.S. Athletes Return To Homes

ROME (AP)—Eighty-seven United States athletes, including five gold medal winners, flew home Wednesday night after completing their participation in the Olympic games.

The departing gold medal winners were swimmers Christine Von Saltza and Carolyn Jane Schuler, boxer Gary M. Tobian, and divers Wilbert J. McClure and Cassius M. Clay.

Sheriff Injured In Auto Crash

CHICO, Calif. (UPI)—Larry Gillick, Butte County sheriff and former Pacific Coast League baseball pitcher, was reported in critical condition Wednesday as the result of an auto accident.

Gillick, 43, was driving home from his Oroville office Tuesday when he smashed broadside into a vehicle driven by Bob Clark, 67, of Chico.

Gillick pitched for the Sacramento Solons and has served as Butte County sheriff for the past six years. His son presently pitches for the Vancouver Mounties in the PCL.

The second game of the best-of-three final playoff series in the Mt. Savage Little League will be staged today at 6 p. m.

The Pirates won the first game from the Yankees on Tuesday by the score of 6-1.

BOSON RALLY IN 8TH
Trips Bengals, 5-4

DETROIT (UPI)—Doubles by Ted Williams and Russ Nixon sparked a four-run rally in the eighth inning that gave the Boston Red Sox a come-from-behind 5-4 victory over the Detroit Tigers Wednesday night.

Williams, honored as one of baseball's greatest all-time players in a pre-game ceremony, sliced a "wrong-field" double to left to drive home Willie Tasby and Carroll Hardy for the first two Boston runs in the eighth.

Then, after Vic Wertz walked, Nixon doubled in the tying and winning runs.

Groat's Loss Pressures Bucs States Hemus

Cards Pilot Likes Schofield However

PITTSBURGH (AP)—Manager Solly Hemus of the St. Louis Cardinals said Wednesday the loss of shortstop Dick Groat for the remainder of the regular season "is bound to put pressure" on the league leading Pittsburgh Pirates.

At the same time, Hemus had nothing but praise for 25-year-old Dick Schofield, Pirate utility infielder who has been tagged as Groat's replacement.

"Groat is a great player, a team leader, a guy who can do everything," Hemus declared. "But Schofield is a capable ball player. If he plays anything at all like he did Tuesday night against Milwaukee it will be satisfactory for the Pirates."

Hemus, here for one game with the league leaders, was in the stands Tuesday night when the Pirates rallied for three runs in the eighth and beat the Braves 5-3. Groat, hitting at a .326 clip, second high in the National League — was hit by a pitched ball in the first inning by a slider thrown by veteran Lew Burdette.

Groat played until the third inning when the pain became too severe. Schofield replaced him, turned in a sparkling fielding performance and got three singles in as many times at bat. That boosted his batting average 63 points — from .290 to .263.

Groat didn't go to a hospital until after the game and it wasn't until Wednesday that many of his teammates learned his wrist had been fractured. The Pirate team physician said Groat will be out for the rest of the season but "could" be ready by Oct. 5 when the World Series opens.

FOREST FUN

All eyes are on Dad as he starts cleaning the fish he caught. Neal McConaghy, 10, a family friend, holds part of catch.

Stew will be the dinner dish for the Prichards this day in camp. Mama keeps stirring the pot.

The nation's forests have spread a vast, green welcome mat for the recreation hungry Americans who camp, hunt, fish and boat.

Deep in the cool recesses of the forests, and along their lakes and streams, hundreds of well laid out camp sites and recreation areas beckon the summer traveler.

These areas range from a simple, undeveloped and secluded glen for the rugged individualist who prefers really roughing it, to fully developed public and privately owned areas for families who must have the comforts of stoves, fireplaces, tables and benches, water spigots and restroom facilities.

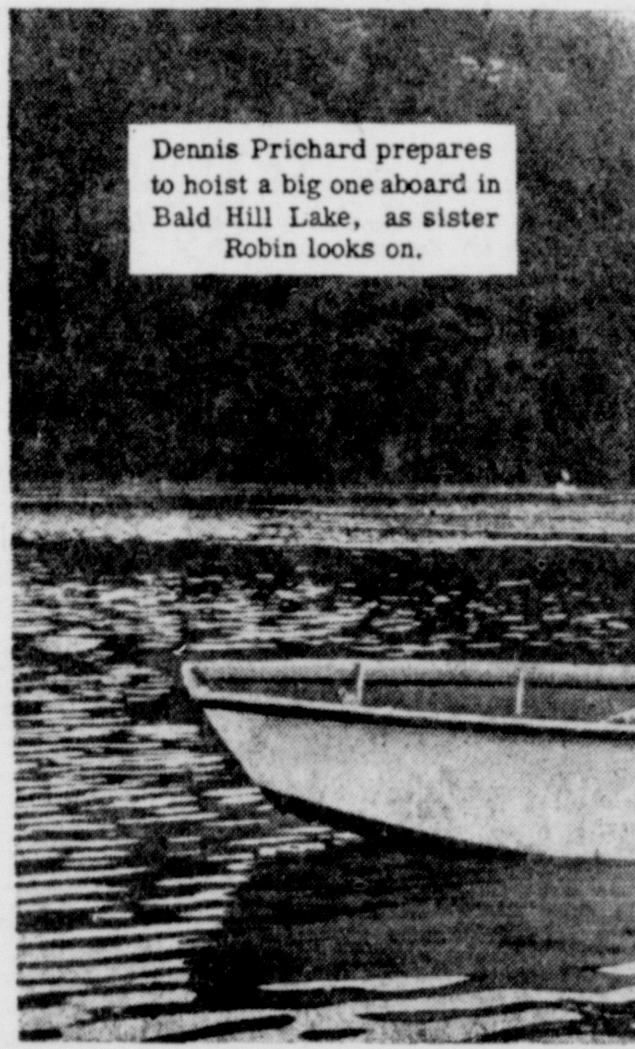

Typical of this latter type is the Bald Hill Lake Park, deep in the forest in western Washington, and typical of the American family who enjoys such facilities is the Robert G. Prichards of Tacoma, Wash.

Besides Mom and Dad are Dennis, 18; Christie, 16; Diana, 13, and Robin, 7. Dad makes industrial patterns in Tacoma, but outdoor living has been as much a part of the Prichard family life as his business. Camping is one thing they all enjoy together—and when summer comes they pack their gear and head for the woods.

The camping Prichards, and two of their little friends they brought along, are pictured here.

It takes a lot of water to cook and clean in camp. The youngsters love to man the pump.

Dennis Prichard prepares to hoist a big one aboard in Bald Hill Lake, as sister Robin looks on.

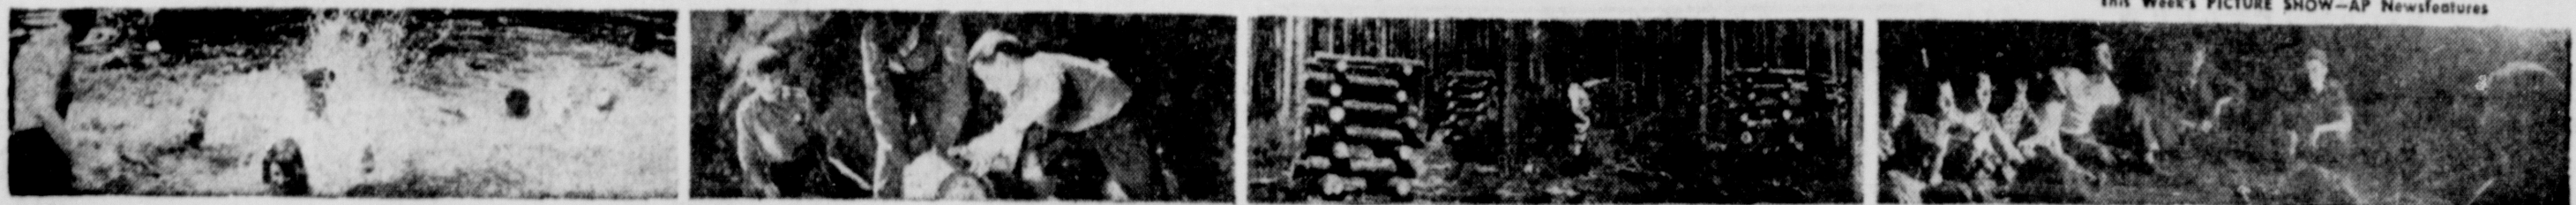

Dad sets up tent for the night while Christie, in back, gets table ready for dinner.

"Room for me?" Duchess, the family pet, envies Robin and her friend, SaraLee Smith, as they turn in for the night.

Market Takes Its Worst Beating Since March

NEW YORK (UPI) — Stock prices experienced their worst beating since early March in a session that threatened to turn into a rout in the last half hour Wednesday.

The loss erased more than $4,400,000,000 from market values, and dealt another hard blow to a virtually demoralized electronics section.

Brokers reported that the market's recent weak action is in keeping with the "correction" that followed the sharp August rise. They said that if a "technical deterioration" sets in within the current corrective phase, another test of the 1960 lows would seem to be in order.

The market, these brokers point out, has been living on its relatively good technical aspects for some time now in the face of a poor-to-hazy business outlook. Wednesday's market gave some indication that the technicals were in danger of breaking down.

New lows, for example, outnumbered new 1960 highs for the first time since August 4. In addition, the great majority of the most active issues declined while volume exhibited a definite tendency to increase while prices plummeted, the latter a new development.

Electronic prices began to slide right Tuesday, ostensibly on word that a major advisory service had recommended selling certain key issues. That sell-off gathered momentum Wednesday as Texas Instruments gave up more than 10 points, IBM nearly 10, Clevite over 3 and Litton 3.

Chicago Grains

CHICAGO (UPI) — Soybeans lost a sharp early advance in close steady Wednesday on the Board of Trade. Other grains were fractionally lower.

At the final bell, wheat was off 1/4 to 1/2 cent unchanged to off 1/4 to 1/2 cent.

Soybeans futures gained a cent in very active trading. Reports that hot weather caused some crop damage encouraged buying by commission houses.

Meals and oils were also up.

Traders talked about an expected close supply and demand situation in beans in the coming season. Local bean stocks declined 833,000 bushels last week.

Chicago grain arrivals totaled only 24 cars Wednesday as a strike by elevator workers continued to hamper movement.

Wheat futures were dull and mostly easy. Brokers with commercial connections brought September and sold December at 6 1/2 cents difference. December was taken on resting orders and by local traders. Longs sold September.

India purchased 1,650,000 bushels of wheat white wheat, according to trade reports. The United Arab Republic asked mills to make orders next week on 20,000 tons of flour.

Trading in corn was light, and prices were little changed. September raised and October touched a new low. Cash interests bought and Britain took parcels of corn.

Oats eased on liquidation and hedge selling. Cash houses bought December and sold May.

One Petitioner Seeks LaVale Zoning Post

Lloyd H. Buchanan Gets 29 Signatures

Lloyd H. Buchanan, Cash Valley Road, was the only resident of Election District 29 in LaVale who filed a petition to be elected a new member to the LaVale Zoning Board for a five-year term.

Yesterday was the final day for filing by residents of LaVale who sought the position on the board which was created in the summer of 1957.

John R. Kelly, Democratic registrar and chief clerk of the Allegany County Board of Election Supervisors, said Mr. Buchanan filed a petition which contains 29 signatures. He said 20 names are required by a petitioner.

The petitions had to be filed 60 days prior to the general election. This means that Mr. Buchanan will automatically be elected to the post, although his name will be placed on the five voting machines which will be used in LaVale on November 8.

C. A. Lancaster, Cumberland newspaperman and the last remaining original member of the board, announced recently that he would not run for re-election.

The two other members of the board are Douglas Smith, a LaVale engineer, and Lee C. Barnett Jr., an attorney who succeeded Leslie J. Clark who resigned in 1959 due to the press of duties as attorney to the County Board of Commissioners.

The original members were Mr. Lancaster, Mr. Clark and John J. Rowan, president of the County Board of Commissioners who resigned in December 1958 after being elected a county commissioner.

Theodore P. Foote, supervisor of art education in Allegany County public schools, was named Mr. Rowan's successor but later resigned and was succeeded by Mr. Smith.

Man To Face Bigamy Count

A Laing Avenue resident, who authorities said has been operating a local cab with another driver's license and photo, was arrested yesterday and interrogated by city police detectives who said he will be charged with bigamy.

Detective Captain James E. Van said Elmer D. Nash, 13 Laing Avenue, was arrested by him and Detective Thomas J. See, who questioned the man at length during the afternoon, and fingerprinted him.

His prints were sent to Washington, D.C. for a further investigation. Local police had received information that "a Mr. Canfield" here was wanted for bigamy.

After questioning Nash, detectives said they learned he had stolen the special chauffeur license and photograph of Donald Canfield, city, and was driving a cab here.

The detectives took Nash to the home of Canfield's mother on Oldtown Road and she said he was not her son. Nash reportedly married a woman in Baltimore in 1957 and they separated. Police said he came to Cumberland and married a local girl.

Hugh Kifer of Barton was issued a permit to build a 24 by 24-foot structure which will be used in conjunction with a liquor business.

The structure will have a concrete foundation, concrete block walls and a composition roof, and will cost about $2,000. It will be built on land assessed to Hugh E. Kifer, 1310 National Highway, and will be located some distance from U.S. Route 40 across from the proposed Plaza Shopping Center.

Westernport Youth Killed In Auto Crash

Donald P. Wilt, 21, Thrown From Vehicle

A 21-year-old Westernport man was killed shortly before midnight Tuesday in a one-car accident along State Route 36 at Moscow.

State Police identified the victim as Donald Patrick Wilt, 21, of 140 Main Street, Westernport. He was pronounced dead on arrival at Miners Hospital in Frostburg.

State Police said two passengers in the car, John Joseph Parker, 19, and Harold Sutherland, 21, both of Westernport, escaped the mishap without injuries.

Tic. Robert Dishong, who investigated, said Wilt was operating his 1956 sedan southbound on the highway when it slid off the road about 500 feet south of Moscow.

The vehicle overturned on the roadway, throwing the victim out to the highway. Attaches said he died of internal injuries.

Police said the vehicle was demolished.

Wilt becomes the 16th person to be killed on highways in Allegany County this year, according to figures at the State Police barracks in LaVale. To date seven people have been killed in nearby Garrett County which is also patrolled by troopers from LaVale.

A native of Westernport, he was a son of Mrs. Mary Agnes (Heylman) Wilt, of 140 Main Street, Westernport, and the late Lee Otis Wilt.

The victim was graduated from Bruce High School in 1957 and was employed at Lou's Auto Store in Piedmont for the past two years. He was a member of Trinity Methodist Church of Piedmont.

Besides his mother, he is survived by two sisters, Mrs. Janet Birchfield, of Union, S. C., and Emma Jean Wilt, at home, and two brothers, Pfc. Kenneth Wilt, stationed with the Army in Korea, and Paul Wilt, at home.

His body is at the Boal Funeral Home in Westernport where the family will receive friends tomorrow and Friday from 2 to 4 p. m. and 7 to 9 p. m.

Services will be conducted at the funeral home on Saturday at 2 p. m. by Rev. Henry G. Laube, pastor of First Baptist Church of Westernport. Interment will be in Philos Cemetery, Westernport.

Ridgeley Seeks New Patrolman

The Town of Ridgeley is seeking applications for the position of police patrolman for that community.

Mayor Charles H. Fryer said yesterday that applications for the new position will be accepted until midnight, Monday, September 26.

He said that on September 27 at 7:30 p. m. he and members of the council will meet to screen the various applications.

Police Chief Lawrence Chandler, who has held that position since the first part of this year, has been assisted by a part-time patrolman, Theodore Fisher, who has a regular job with the Western Maryland Railway Company.

Patrolman Fisher works two days a week giving the police chief time off from his regular duties in the West Virginia community.

Mayor Fryer said applications may be sent to the Town of Ridgeley in care of the town recorder.

The applicant, who must be over 21 years of age, need not be a resident of Ridgeley or even of West Virginia, but may be a resident of Maryland or surrounding states.

Applications in letter form are to include the person's name, age and address, schooling, physical data, whether he has had previous police experience as well as other data pertinent to the position, which will be a full-time job.

Golden Gifts Of CUF Reach $63,748 Mark

After only a week of intensive campaigning, during which there was an intervening long weekend, the Golden Gifts Division of the fourth annual County United Fund campaign yesterday reported at a noon luncheon meeting at the Fort Cumberland Hotel that $63,748 of its goal of $120,000 is already in hand.

The announcement was made by William L. Wilson Jr. and William H. Ohm, co-chairmen of the Golden Gifts Division in the campaign headed by William E. Crooks, Amelle plant manager, that is seeking a total of $352,666 for the support of 28 health, welfare, and community agencies of CUF.

The Golden Gifts chairmen are being hailed by CUF officials for their collection of 53.1 per cent of their goal during the short work week. There are indications, these officials say, that the success of the GG drive may mean that the fourth CUF drive will be more successful than any of the past three.

With the GG Division shooting for a deadline of September 21 for the conclusion of its campaign, the Classified Division, headed by Kenton B. Farrell and J. Carson Dowell, will kick off its campaign next week. Farrell and Dowell last night announced that the following will serve as captains of the Classified Division:

George Geary, Thomas F. Conlon Jr., Victor D. Heisey, Fred A. Hutchison, Arch M. Hutchison, William B. Orndorff, James L. Weber, David P. Goodfellow, Robert G. Garner, Andrew N. Phillips, George A. Caswell, Lawrence Brown, Hal D. Barber, Robert Little Ebert, Gerald Barb, Wallace G. Ullery, Robert C. Peterson, James H. Smith and J. Edgar McMannis.

Public School Children End Their Vacation

Teaching Positions All Are Filled

Public school children of Allegany County, who ended their summer vacation with reluctance yesterday by returning to classes, will have another half-day session today and a full day of studies tomorrow.

The first enrollment figures in the elementary and high schools of the county are due Saturday in the office of Homer S. Higgins, supervisor of pupil personnel, who should have a full report by Monday.

He said a second enrollment report will be due in his office by September 17. Between now and then there are some students who report back to school who did not show up on the opening day. About 16,000 students will be enrolled in public schools this year.

All the teaching positions have been filled in the county schools. Richard T. Rizer, assistant superintendent of schools, gave a few statistics on the teacher roster. 31 Changes Made

He said there were 31 teacher adjustments in the high schools, including nine transfers from one high school to another or from one department of a school to another department.

There were 22 new high school appointments, three of which were transfers from elementary schools to high schools.

Fifteen of the new appointees are graduates of Frostburg State Teachers College, nine of whom will be getting their first year of teaching experience.

Six of the county applicants are graduates of West Virginia University, and five of them are experienced teachers with master's degrees, he said.

Six other colleges are represented in the school system. They are the University of Maryland, Western Maryland College, Shepherd College, Penn State University, Fairmont State Teachers College and Springfield (Mass.) College.

Over 600 Teachers

Mr. Rizer pointed out there are 342 high school teachers in the county, including 78 at Fort Hill, 76 at Allegany, 41 at Beall, 34 at Valley, 34 at Bruce, 25 at Mt. Savage, 13 at Flintstone, 12 at Oldtown, 11 at Cresaptown, eight at Pennsylvania Avenue seventh grade, and 10 at the Beall Elementary seventh grade.

There are about 300 teachers and principals in the elementary schools of the county. This includes 121 in local schools, 92 in schools including Flintstone, LaVale, Mt. Savage, Eckhart, Corrigansville and Ellerslie, and 75 at Northeast in LaVale, Cresaptown, and schools in the George's Creek section.

Six Prisoners Escape In Jailer's Car

Local police were alerted by Maryland State Police yesterday afternoon to be on the lookout for six prisoners who overpowered Jailer John Hess and escaped from the Berkeley County Jail in Martinsburg, W. Va.

Hess went to the cell block with food yesterday, was seized and shoved into a cell. The prisoners fled in the jailer's car, which had a loaded .38 caliber revolver in the glove compartment.

Police said the two-door sedan has a cream top and bluish gray body, and bears West Virginia license plates 148-303.

The fugitives are Robert Kirby, William Toup and Floyd Bohrer, each 21 and each being held for robbery; Franklin McClintock, 23, being held on auto theft charges; Nelson McCauley, 23, a parole violator sentenced for forgery; and Charles Rockwell, 27, another parole violator sentenced for auto theft.

Three Baltimoreans Walk Here To Study C&O Canal

After eleven days of hiking along the Chesapeake and Ohio Canal from Georgetown (Washington, D. C.) to Cumberland, three Baltimore youths spent Tuesday and Wednesday here resting, doing some research on canal history and interviewing local people on their memories of the boating days that ended in 1924.

Two of the three youths are grandsons of the late Mrs. Nellie Wilson Footer of this city. James and Thom Murrill—and the third member of the hiking party is Robert Campbell whose stepfather, J. H. R. Ratcliffe, is assistant headmaster of St. Paul's School, Brooklandville, Baltimore. "Jim" Murrill is a student at the University of Maryland and Thom Murrill and Campbell attend St. Paul's, of which the older Murrill is a graduate.

Tape recorded interviews were arranged with Miss Mary G. Walsh, Mrs. D. P. LeFevre, former Judge George Henderson, former Judge D. Lindley Sloan, John J. McMullen and J. William Hunt, of Cumberland, and Isaac Long, Oldtown.

En route to Cumberland the hikers interviewed people at Harpers Ferry, Shepherdstown, Williamsport and during overnight stops at farm houses and camping sites.

A goal of 20 miles a day was set at the beginning of the hike, which was expected to take 10 days. Actually, the youths averaged 17 miles a day, the distance they walked on the final day from just east of Oldtown to Cumberland. Next summer, Campbell and Thom Murrill hope to lead a group of 10 St. Paul's boys on a more leisurely hike to Cumberland.

"There is no point," said Jim Murrill, "in trying to set a record. The scenic beauty and the history connected with the C&O Canal and the Potomac River can be better appreciated if the hike is not hurried."

The hikers saw only one snake along the way—an' that was a small black snake. They prepared most of their meals, but ate once at a restaurant and twice at farm homes. Fresh drinking water was the most precious commodity, they said, and several times they took chances on water sources of doubtful purity. All had been inoculated, however, against typhoid and all have had their protective shots against polio.

The three returned to Baltimore yesterday by bus.

Driver Fined After Augusta Man Is Killed

Car Struck By Tractor-Trailer

Harry Lee Hartman, 34, of Kirby, W. Va., yesterday was fined $100 after he entered a plea of guilty to a charge of negligent homicide in the highway death of 60-year-old Elmer Roy Wolford of Augusta, W. Va., who was killed in a two-vehicle collision on U. S. Route 50 at Capon Bridge.

Hartman, who was given a hearing before A. L. Russell, justice of the peace in Romney, also could lose his driver's permit for a year, authorities said.

State Police at Romney said the accident occurred at 6:05 a. m. (EST) yesterday. They gave this account of the accident:

Hartman, driving east on Route 50, started to make a left turn into a service station. Wolford was sitting in the front of the car.

A tractor-trailer headed west and driven by Harold B. Gray, 32, of Baltimore, plowed into the car broadside and shoved it about 94 feet sideways down the road and into a ditch and a field.

Police said the hydraulic system of the tractor-trailer was damaged by the impact and the driver had no brakes.

Both Drivers Hurt

The driver of the rig sustained a broken right thumb, according to police, who said Hartman suffered two broken ribs, right leg bruises, and lacerations of the face.

The truck driver is employed by the Better Roads Corporation of Baltimore and had 61,940 pounds of road tar on the trailer. He was traveling in the direction of Hampshire and Mineral counties, where road construction work is being done, police said.
